

RWS 200: UNIT 4 SCHEDULE

Please note that the following schedule is approximate, as dates and topics may shift as the semester continues. I will always inform you ahead of time of any changes. Please check Blackboard often for updated schedule information.

All reading and portfolio assignments are to be completed outside of class before the date they appear on the schedule—they are due on the date under which they are listed. Always bring hard copies of the readings and portfolio assignments to class.

Key: “BB”=Blackboard, “CR”=Werry’s “RWS 200 Course Reader,” and “Keys”=Raimes’ Keys for Writers.

WEEK 13

Monday, 4/11:

Essay 3 final draft due as a hard copy, typed and stapled.

Discuss Essay 4 prompt.

Wednesday, 4/13:

NO CLASS: Research day.

Reading: “Quick Guide to Quotations” (p. 25 in CR).

Portfolio: Plagiarism and paraphrasing tutorials (save the results pages electronically and email them to me).

Friday, 4/15:

NO CLASS: Research day.

Reading: “Don’t Let Database Searching Stress You Out!” by Brittany Cronin (on BB); Watch “Evaluating Journal Articles with the CAARP Test” (on BB).

Portfolio: Five things you learned from the reading and five things you learned from the video (submit via email).

WEEK 14

Monday, 4/18:

NO CLASS: Research day.

Reading: Watch “Peer Review in Three Minutes” (on BB).

Portfolio: Two scholarly sources, including their projects and arguments; Scholarly vs. popular chart (submit both via email).

Wednesday, 4/20:

Proposal due as a hard copy, typed and stapled.

Friday, 4/22:

Reading: “Creating a Research Space” by John Swales and Christine Feak (on BB).

WEEK 15

Monday, 4/25:

Essay 4 rough draft due as a hard copy, typed and stapled, at the beginning of class.

In-class peer workshop.

Wednesday, 4/27:

NO CLASS: Attend conferences and work on essays.

Friday, 4/29:

NO CLASS: Attend conferences and work on essays.

WEEK 16

Monday, 5/2:

Essay 4 review day.

Wednesday, 5/4:

Essay 4 final draft due as a hard copy, typed and stapled, at the beginning of class.